Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

The AFL, having made a resounding flop of its attempted organization of the miners in this district, is now out to organize other workers here. It is proposed to form an AFL among retail clerks and machinists of this district. The usual promises of higher wages, shorter hours and better working conditions are being used as a bait to bring men and women into the new organizations. In these categories of workers there is at present no other union in the field, and perhaps the organizers feel that with no opposition they can move in.

Of course there is no objection to workers anywhere organizing themselves into unions. The New Deal especially encourages workers to do so. But we would like to utter a word of caution to those who contemplate joining either the CIO or the AFL. Because, as revealed in the press dispatches, there are two divisions in the AFL and the CIO. One division is composed of hard working, patriotic citizens, even as you and I. The other division is composed of those who seek by violence to overthrow our government. The CIO of the North American Aviation company, for instance, turned out to be a bunch of red communists. The President on Tuesday ordered the troops in there to put them down, and out. They have already been condemned by the national CIO leaders, Murray and Frankenstein, as red radicals staging an outlaw strike.

It is very hard, therefore, for our local clerks and workers to be sure of just what thy are stepping into, when they join either the CIO or AFL, because both of these great national unions are so shot through with the busy red termites of destruction, that a man who loves his country, can never be sure he is not handing his future over to a strong-armed bunch of Stalinites who will rule him as ruthlessly as hundreds of the North American Aviation company's employes were ruled.

The best advice that can be given any patriotic citizen of the twin communities of Nevada City and Grass Valley, when they are asked to join a union, is to inquire all about the organizer, walking delegate, who whatsoever the so-called labor official calls himself, who undertakes to organize him. Often the sheriff of the county will have his record and his picture, and if not the sheriff, there is the Bureau of Criminal Identification in Sacramento, which will assist any worker in doubt about the organizer. It is far better to make these inquiries before joining than afterward, because once in a union, no worker nowadays has much to say about what the union does. If a strike is to be called, the meeting is packed, the goons are there, and anyone who raises his voice against the strike, is told: "Sit down, you rat"

Of course, that might not happen in our community, because we do beieve we have a large number of upstanding citizens who just wont take that kind of talk without a battle. But we do know that over the land there has been spread what is commonly called a "red net-work." One only has to read the papers to find out that in the defense industries especially, the fascists and the bundists are teamup with the communists to hamstring Uncle Sam. So much so that troops have gone into one plant, and the President, if he doesn't change his mind, is likely to put troops into any strike-bound defense factory, where the red rats have taken over the union and the plant.

On the practical side of joining a union it would be well for any

G. Walling Dies After Long Illness

Deceased Had Lived Entire Life In This District

George Walling, 57, one of Nevada City's best known and respected residents, died here yesterday afternoon following a long illness.

Walling was a native of this city, the son of the late Judge and Mrs. J. M. Walling. He resided here nearly his entire life and was a former employee of the Tahoe National Forest.

During the latter years of his life Walling's chief interest was in the local lodge of Elks. He was tyler of the lodge at the time of his death and he formerly held the position of secretary. For years Walling was bowling score keeper for the Elks here.

One of Walling's former hobbies was photography and many of his friends have wonderful pictures he had taken.

The closest relative of the deceased is a sister, Mrs. Vesta Maher of Oakland. She arrived here today to complete the funeral arrangements.

The funeral will be held at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Holmes Funeral Home. The Elks Lodge will conduct the services.

Mrs. Frank Meggers Hostess To Club

CAMPTONVILLE, June 12.—The Womens Club met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank W. Meggers at the Forest Service Headquarters. The foremost subject discussed was that of bringing electrical power into the community. A representative of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company from the Auburn office consulted with some of the officials of the club a few days ago, and a survey is being made of the possibility of bringing power into the town.

It was also decided to hold a public card party in the local Masonic Hall Saturday evening June 28th for the purpose of raising funds to construct a barbeqpe pit at the Frog Hollow picnic grounds. The forest service have stated that they will permit the Frog Hollow camp grounds to be used.

Sheep Killing Dogs Active

Cement Hill residents are considerably disturbed over the activities of three sheep killing dogs which are creating havoc among the bands of sheep in the area.

Already the dogs have accounted for three sheep from the flock of Leslie Orzalli's.

The latest raid by the dogs on Orzalli's sheep was early today. Orzalli fired a shot at one of the dogs but did not score a hit.

Cement Hill residents are prepared to shoot the dogs at the first opportunity. The animals seem to be working together. The leader is described as a large yellow canine. The other two are smaller, one black and the other black and white.

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

In peaceful, untroubled times, Mr. Everyday American may feel that he can play a bit of politics, or leave it alone, as his fancy suits him—and that the country won't go to the dogs entirely if he is too preoccupied to do more than get out and vote on election day!

Right now, however, the man who won't invest a little of his time and energy in deliberating on the problems of his government is on a par with the fellow who never thinks about buying insurance until his house burns down.

The 1941 session of the State Legislature is drawing to a close after a hectic meeting, marked by a deathgrips battle between thoughtful legislators, who recognize that the country is faced with a national emergency, and thoughtless legislators, who are still carrying the torch for self seeking minorities.

In Washington, D. C. Congress and the leaders in our national government are grappling with the most momentous issues in America's history. President Roosevelt has asked enactment of a bill which will give him the authority to draft "property of any kind of character" for defense of the nation. Secretary of the Interior Ickes has been made czar of the oil industry. There is talk of government seizure of strike-bound plants to put an end to the deadly paralysis of labor warfare. Workers in the State Department toil far into night. And there are rumblings that a declaration of war may not be far distant!

That is the stuff that politics is made of these days. It isn't a question any more of bickering between Democrats and Republicans, or rivalry between the "in" and the "outs". This is the grim business of determining whether American democracy is still equal to any emergency.

The "America First Committee," in a recent campaign broadside, bluntly asks: "If we get into this war, won't we become a Fascist America?" Other thoughtful Americans are asking: If we don't get into this war, won't we become a vassal of Hitler?" They're both questions to ponder, no matter what your viewpoint.

Youth Confesses, Then Repudiates, Tale Here Of Robbing Yuba Co. Bank

FOLLOWING ORIGINAL STORY SUSPECT SAID IT WAS INVENTED SO HE COULD SOBER UP IN JAIL

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is expected to step into the investigation of the story of Jesse Butler, 27, that he is the man who robbed the Wheatland bank on November 9, 1939. Butler later repudiated the tale, stating he "wanted to get into jail to sober up."

Butler was taken into custody by Undersheriff William D. Woods, and Sheriff Charles McCoy of Yuba County was notified.

McCoy, following an investigation, said he has turned the case over to the FBI but so far, according to Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen, no federal agent has come here to question Butler.

Butler is being held until the officers receive a return on his fingerprints or until the FBI claims him.

McCoy and Sheriff Tobiassen questioned Butler, the tenth suspect arrested in connection with the bank holdup, but Butler has maintained since he told his original story that it was an invented tale.

NEVADA CITY SCHOOL PUPILS BRIGHT BUNCH

Another old-time Nevada City teacher, Eugene E. Barker, has retired. In interview granted the San Francisco Chronicle he hands a big bouquet to his former pupils in the Nevada City district, in which he states:

"Now you take that Nevada City bunch—they were brighter and more interested than almost any class I have taught since. They didn't have so many distactions, like automobiles, movies, and soda fountains, of course, so they didn't mind staying home night to study.

"Also their minds weren't occupied with so much miscellaneous wisdom, and their experience was in reasonable proportion to their years'."

Barker's career as a teacher began in 1891, two years before his graduation from the University of California. Following his graduation in 1893, he went to teach at Mt. Tamalpais Military Academy in San Rafael.

Leaving there, he came to Nevada City and then went to Los Angele to become principle in the Polytechnic High School in that city. Prior to his just completed 16 year stretch in the San Francisco schools he was principal of the Santa Rosa High School.

During his long career as an ininstructor, Mr. Barker has written a treatise on mathematics, which was his specialty. His plans on what he will do when he no longer has to answer school bells are rather indefinite, but he is a lover of nature and he has visited Nevada City several times during the past years and he will no doubt make frequent trips to this city, to renew old acquaintance.

You Too Can Help

The United Service Organization's nationwide drive for funds to finance a gigantic morale-building campaign will reach Nevada County Saturday, when a high jinks and entertainment program will be held at the Veterans Memorial Building in Grass Valley.

It is hoped to raise Nevada County's quota by the staging of the high jinks.

The public should "join the army behind the army." The public will find that. by getting behind the USO campaign, they can help themselves while they help to make life more pleasant for the nation's soldiers.

For the USO drive has two objectives. One is to help preserve the wonderful military morale that is so apparent among the armed forces; the other is to build civilian morale by furnishing an answer to the much-asked question:

"Isn't there some way that I can help in the defense program?"

THINKING OUT LOUD

worker, clerk, miner, machinist, truck driver, or of whatever calling, to find out in advance if possible just what his initiation fee and dues are to be used for. Often the organizer keeps all the dough and buys his sweetheart a new diamond, or if inclined to be what the Bible calls a wine bibber, he goes on a grand bender and bust. When he gets out of a strange jail house, he picks himself another community, a little green on the labor racket and forms another union. Sometimes the money goes to finance communist literature, sometimes it is used to bail out reds that the olice have sequestered.

We do not wish to discourage workers here or anywhere else from joining honest American unions if it betters them. But we reds that the police have sequest- think it within our province to warn them that a good many unions, both CIO and AFL are stooges for Stalin, Hitler, and Mussolini, and it behooves every canny citizen to look before he leaps into an aggregation that may turn out to be labor fakirs, labor racketeers, common bums, or sinister red rats.

DANGER LURKS IN CLOSING DAYS OF LEGISLATURE

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

The 1941 state legislature is rushing pell-mell toward adjournment, working day and night in an eleventh hour drive to reach decisions on the major issues and dispose of the hundreds of miscellaneous bills still pending.

While some of the hottest battles of the session are over, there are still critical days ahead — for it is during the final weeks, when bills are jammed through with only superficial consideration, that dangerous legislation is most likely to get through unnoticed.

Conservative members generally, who have fought throughout the session to keep the bars up against extravagant spending and visionary experimentation, must now redouble their vigilance to spike crack-pot proposals and check the flood of "pork barrel" special appropriation bills.

The danger from special appropriation measures, during the closing weeks of this session, is greater than usual, due to the fact that state revenues are booming, under the impetus of defense spending.

Of particular significance, under the circumstances, is the recent appeal of Harold D. Smith, Federal budget director, that all local expenditures be held to a minimum.

Budget Director Smith has frankly declared that the national defense program is going to require every last dollar the taxpayer can spare—and more! And to avoid encroachment on federal tax sources, he has appealed to state and local officials throughout the country to postpone any enterprises which are not imperative, so that the nations resources will be available to carry on the preparedness program.

Despite that warning, however, terrific pressure will undoubtedly be brought to bear on the legislature between now and adjournment to approve millions of dollars worth of special appropriation bills—some of which will likely be adorned with national defense trappings to lessen resistance. As a matter of fact, some of the dog eared proposals now being put forward as "defense measures" were kicking around the legislature when Hitler was still a corporal.

Bona fide national defense measures, however—such as the anti-sabotage act, repeal of the secondary boycott and numerous proposals to clamp down on communists and bundists—have occupied much of the time of the lawmakers.

Organized labor already has bitterly condemned the 1941 legislature as "anti-labor." Nothing could be further from the truth. As a matter of fact,there have been many times when farm groups and other branches of the community, outraged by labor excesses, have asked for far more drastic action than the legislature has taken.

Members of the legislature, for the most art, recognized the imperative need of legislation which would permit agriculture, business and industry to meet the national government's demands for high speed, uninterrupted production. And faced with that need, they took action, in several instances, designed to forestall unwarranted work stoppages. The fate of some of this legislation, however, is still in doubt, due to labor opposition.

To this writer, one of the gloomiest aspects of the 1941 session—at least as it bears on the nation's welfare—has been the stubborn refusal of labor leaders to recognize that an emergency exists and that labor has responsibilities as well as privileges. Thus far, labor's attitude—as displayed at Sacramento—is that the national defense program is just another WPA project and that everybody is entitled to fight to get his share of the loot.

Certainly, there has been no disposition to recognize that if farmers and school teachers, and grocers and housewives, must make sacrifices, labor, too, must make sacrifices.

Under the circumstances, members of the legislature who have stood up against tremendous labor pressure, for measures to prevent sabotaging of the state's productive machinery, are to be congratulated both on their courage and their wisdom. Likewise members who have held the fort against extravagance and reckless expenditures, deserve a hand from their home districts. It is to be hoped that they stay by their guns until the final gavel falls.

Here is one you can make yourself, to lend prestige to your informal entertaining. Called "Jack Frost", it requires only 36 separate motifs which you can make up in no time at all. It is crocheted in mercerized crochet cotton and will remain crisp and new-looking after repeated tubbings. Directions for making this design may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this newspaper, specifying Design #659.

SERVICE BOARDS TOLD FARM HELP GETTING SCARCE

SACRAMENTO, June 12.—(UP)—Brig. Gen. J. O. Donovan, state director of selective service, today asked ocal draft boards to give especial attention to possible deferment of farm workers in view of a growing shortage of agricultral labor.

Donovan quoted Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard as saying:

"The national defense program has drawn heavily upon the supply of farm labor and maintaining an adequate supply of farm workers for production of essential foods required for national defense is becoming a serious problem."

Shortages are most acute in New England and middle Atlantic states, but California supply of agricultural labor has decreased by 19.3 per cent during the year ending April 1, Wickard said.

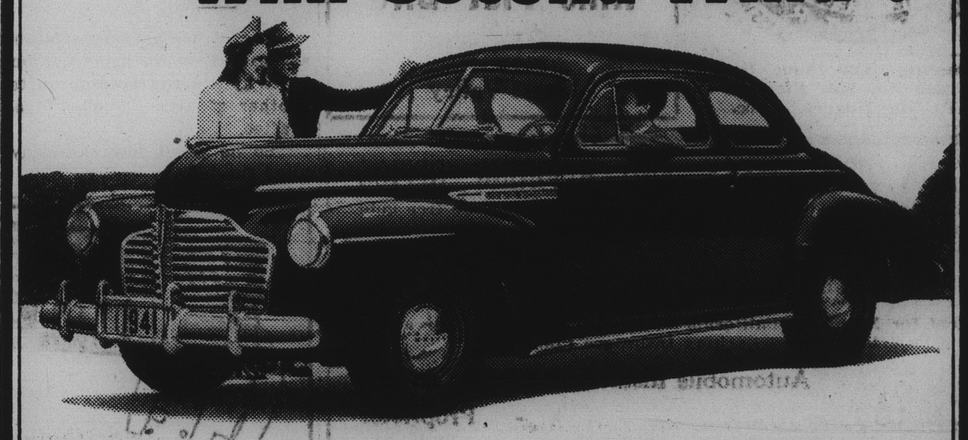
Called To Forest Hill—

Ernest L. Baxter, assistant Tahoe National Forest Supervisor, was called to Forest Hill on business yesterday.

Come on! Drive a Car with "Second Wind"!



You say a racehorse has "heart" when he can turn on the drive coming into the stretch and bring the crowd to its feet with an all-out finish.

Okeh—come try a car that can turn on extra wallop like water from a tap—and see what you would say about Compound Carburetion!†

For this stunning Buick straight-eight swings you along sweetly on only half-carburetion as long as you're taking it easy in everyday sort of travel.

But step down on the gas treadle—and things happen.

A second carburetor opens up. Air supply as well as gas supply is increased. Power rises instanter. You get your "stretch drive" any time you give the word.

But—this isn't only for thrill.

This engine's actually more efficient because it has this "second wind."

It gives you a car that has the life and lift you like—and still delivers (on owners' say-so) as much as 10% to 15% more miles per gallon than previous Buicks did.

That would be important any time; it's all the more important now—at the low delivered prices your Buick dealer is asking.

$930 for the Business Coupe (illustrated above) including Compound Carburetion, delivered at Flint, Mich. State tax, optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices and specifications subject to change without notice.

†Available on Buick SPECIAL models at slight extra cost, standard on all other Series.

Aircraft Plants In California Employ 97,434

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—With 97,434 men employed as of May 1, California aircraft producers are playing a major part in arming the nation and Great Britain, the Aircraft Information Bureau reported today.

This 97,434 men compare with the less than 40,000 employed last spring and the 70,196 as of January this year. Since the first of the year there has been an increase of 27,238 aircraft workers.

Major companies who reported their employment figures to the Aircraft Information Bureau are Consolidated, Douglas, Lockheed, North American, Northrop, Ryan and Vultee.

With the increase in employment has come a change in the methods of production from that of making aircraft in small lots to their production on the assembly line. Instead of working one shift a day, all the plants are working three shifts, on holidays, Sundays and vacation time.

Latest state statistics published by H. C. Carrasco state labor commissioner, show that aircraft work in the year from April, 1940, to April 1941 is up 134 per cent and payrolls are up to 193 per cent.

Men at work during the month of April have increased nearly 8 per cent and payrolls are up 9.5 per cent as compared with March. The increase in payroll over the preceding year is due to the greater number of hours the men put in, and the increased rates of pay.

James Williams, Nevada City constable, who recently underwent an appendicitis operation, is improving rapidly from his illness.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

INFLUENCE

Influence is the exhalation of character.—William Mackergo Taylor.

The spirit of a person's life is ever shedding some power, just as a flower is steadily bestowing fragrance upon the air.—Thomas Starr King.

The good man imparts knowingly and unknowingly goodness; but the evil man also exhales consciosly and unconsciously his vile nature—hence be careful of your company.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Planets do not govern the soul, or guide the destinies of men, but trifles, lighter than straws, are levers in the building up of character.—Tupper.

A word or a nod from the good, has more weight than the eloquent speeches of others.—Plutarch.

Forming characters! Whose?—our own, or others?—Both. And in that momentous fact lies the peril and responsibility of our existence.—Elihu Burritt.
